

St Augustine were asked to email Mr Grogan about podcasts. They have been making and publishing podcasts on the Igfl (London Grid for Learning) since April. Read on to hear what they thought ... ..

Louise M:

Dear Mr Grogan

I think podcasting is good because it makes literacy fun. We've done podcasts for the Egyptians, jokes, raps, I want a pet and lots more Podcasting is a wicked thing. It's worth the money!

Ryan H:

To Mr.Grogan,

I think that podcasting is a good idea because they make lessons a lot more exciting. When I am at home I wonder if we are going to use the podcast today. It makes us better at writing and more confident at it. It makes Literacy more fun.

Maria B:

Dear Mr Grogan,

I like podcasts because the children speak loud and clear. I mostly liked the argument of 'I want a pet' and the 'Jokes'. If other children heard this it would make them laugh.

Nicole G:

Dear Mr Grogan

I like the podcasts because the children who took part were loud and clear. I mostly liked the raps and jokes. Parents would love to hear their children speak in front of the class.

Caitlin G:

To Mr.Grogan,

I think the podcasts are really clear. If we carry on doing them, people will become more confident. When I get home from school I wonder who might be listening to our podcasts.

Samuel K:

Dear Mr.Grogan,

I like the podcasts. I enjoyed Gran can you rap. They are fun to perform.

Liam M:

Dear Mr. Grogan

I think the podcasting we have done are really good. All the jokes we have put on are great. I think we should create more. My family like to hear them. Because they are on the internet children my age can hear them.

Sophia W:

Dear Mr Grogan

The podcasts are a fantastic idea. I think it gets children more interested in Literacy. We have already recorded lots of podcasts, like poems and rhymes. It also teaches children how to use an MP3 player.

Sofia G:

To Mr.Grogan,

Podcasts are good because you can put them on the computer easily and people across the country can listen to them. If we carry on using the mp3 players I think our speaking will get clearer. I think the more we record the easier and less nervous children will get.

Sabina D' S:

Dear Mr Grogan,

I like the podcasts because the people who took part in it were loud and clear. I mostly liked it when we performed 'Can I have a pet?' The children were trying to get there mum and dad to buy them a pet but they had to come up with reasons not to buy one. I liked the jokes because some of them were funny.

Will B:

Dear Mr Grogan

I think the podcasts are really good. It is like a treat from doing those tests. We should do it more often.

Maria H:

Dear Mr.Grogan,

I enjoy making podcasts because it makes lessons more interesting. I also think you make good choices in which ones you put on the internet. My favourite one is 'Gran can you rap.' What is yours? Please carry on making podcasts in lessons because they are very fun to make. I think it is good for parents to here their children on the computer because it makes them proud. Please reply soon and I hope you have enjoyed reading what I think about podcasts.
